Says Indigestion Results From An Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, fer-ments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach, which prevents complete disc. hydrochloric acid in the stomach, which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digeshe tells its to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure diges-

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

A JOLLY GOOD TIME

Press Club's Novel Entertainment Proves a "Draw" in Double Sense.

that if Jack had opened the window to allow the 15th street breezes to sigh through those marvelous chin tresses the fiddling of Messrs. Chilton and Newton would have been nothing in comparison. Truly the Press Club had the lyre of Aeolus on Jack's chin last night and no one knew it.

Contestants Enter Ring.

But to return to the welterweight contest on the fiddle. The lecturer prefaced his entirely safe method of globe navigation with the announce and that the contest would be one of inspiration, exhibitant and perspiration. Whereupon amid loud cheers Byron Whereupon amid loud cheers Byron Newton, who used to be a reporter before he got a job down to Uncle Sam's Treasury, climbed into the ring, followed by Senator Chilton. Howard Acton was the starter at the plano, but he quit after Byron got through with a lofty acrobatic performance of "Pop Goes the Weasel," and Ray Morgan had to be rushed to the front. Byron kept yelling for "Two sharps," "Three flats" and other musical signals, and Ray kept right behind him. In fact, at one stage he had Byron trailing him. Press club feet had a hard time to keep still—and, in fact, they didn't. The most —and, in fact, they didn't. The most uneasy foot was that of Senator Chilton, which patted furiously to keep time to his opponent's hoe down.

Decides Contest a Draw.

At the end of the bout Chairman Tiller announced that the contestants would have to be their own judges. enator Chilton thereupon said he won the prize, but Assistant Secretary Newton of the Treasury arose with a puz-zled look and said that he had won it. The audience was then called on to de-cide, and it gave each man sixteen sec-onds of applause. Whereupon Chair-man Tiller announced that the contest was a draw and that the Press Club would keep the sack of flour.

Jack Messenger's false whiskers, the main event of the evening, constituted a part of the scenery in a sketch entitled "Col. Choptank and His Man Buck." The latter half of the sketch was H. E. C. Bryant of the New York World and other large dailies. He blacked up his face and told a lot of old-time southern dialect tales directly into Col. Choptank's goates.

Interesting Films Shown.

The entertainment was opened with a first run view of a remarkable motio olcture entitled "Hypacrites." It proved to be one of the most interesting seen by Press Club audiences and the applause following each of the four reels was genuine and generous.

R. Newton, assistant secretary of the Treasury, last night at the National Press Club and also for the welterweight fiddling championship of the world, and just who won it and how will be told in another paragraph.

The real howling success of the evening, however, were the false whiskers of "Jack" Messenger, the man who writes those fine political pieces, and a truly artistic critic of the evening's performance was constrained to say that if Jack had opened the window
